

North Country Smokehouse

North Country Smokehouse is a small artisan firm headed by a fourth generation Butcher, whose family has been well known in the meat industry for over seventy-five years. We're a group of passionate artisans; people who produce perfectly balanced smoked meats through Old World European traditions and a commitment to authentic quality. We know that fine chefs the world over continually search for honest, authentic ingredients. They look for foods as unique as their ideas. We believe they need to look no further than North Country Smokehouse.

North Country Smokehouse is recognized as a high quality processor of traditional fresh and smoked sausages, hams and bacons. From our real maple syrup breakfast sausages to our elegant smoked duck breasts, Chef's the world over recognize both the quality and the versatility of North Country Smokehouse. Our Customers include five star hotels, white table cloth restaurants, airlines and cruise lines. We challenge today's chef's to create signature dishes utilizing North Country products as a culinary resource. Our satisfaction does not come from selling or marketing our products but from "partnering" with great chefs in creating concepts that are embraced by their clientele.

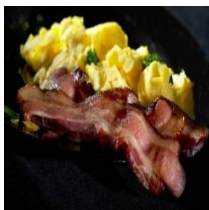

North Country butchers still cure our products meticulously by hand, using maple sugar and traditional spices first brought back in the eighteenth century from the West Indies by Portsmouth sea captains. We smoke our foods slowly over carefully controlled cool burning fires of maple wood and corn cobs. This is the authentic New England farm smokehouse method perfected by colonists before the American Revolutions. We think this method produces far superior flavor to hickory smoking – and our customers agree. All of our foods bring you the magnificent flavor and the goodness of New England farmhouse foods "from a simpler time, to a better time....for over 75 years."
