

Gluten Free Houston

Gluten Free Houston was founded in 2009 by a woman in search of something good to eat. As a person with a gluten intolerance known as celiac disease, she was disappointed with the commercially available gluten free foods, so she started making her own. Gluten Free Houston products are now widely available through the Chef Ex program.

Gluten Free Houston products are produced with 100% gluten free ingredients in a 100% gluten free commercial kitchen. Cross-contamination with wheat can be a big problem for those with gluten intolerance. Even the slightest exposure can cause extreme illness. Gluten Free Houston's commitment to a completely gluten free environment is the reason why the gluten free community has complete trust in its products.
