

LA TOURANGELLE

ARTISAN OIL MILL

La Tourangelle artisan mill in California

A family-owned business, La Tourangelle is an award-winning Artisan Oil mill handcrafting specialty oils in Woodland, California with the same process, artisan's care and equipment that it has used for a century and a half in its Artisan mill based in Saumur, France.

La Tourangelle employs traditional methods of production in order to obtain specialty oils full of flavors and health benefits. Unlike many refined commercial oil producers who use heat or chemicals to extract oil, La Tourangelle uses an age-old process that retains nutrients and the flavor of the nut or fruits. The process requires painstaking selection of the finest fruits from the orchard, then patient sun-drying. In case of nut oils, the nuts are then roasted in cast iron kettles from the original operation in France and expeller pressed before being lightly filtered. The result is a line of specialty artisan oils with a clearly discernible difference in quality.
